

LYDD GEORGE TALK GIVES NO HINT OF PLANS

Eagerly-awaited Address of British Premier Proves Disappointment to the Nation

DEVOTES SPEECH TO DEFENSE OF HIS NEAR EAST POLICY

Will Abide by His Office, But Would Welcome a Change
Declares the Premier

MANCHESTER.—By The Associated Press.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech to the Liberal Reform club Saturday afternoon, expected to be a historic utterance, was a disappointment because the premier gave no intimation regarding his plans or his program. In that respect his oration was similar to that of Austen Chamberlain, at Birmingham, Friday.

Of his address of one hour and twenty minutes, Mr. Lloyd George devoted nearly an hour to defense of his near eastern policy and to ridicule of his critics. In a brilliant peroration, recalling his services to the nation, he said, "I cast myself on the people because I have never betrayed them."

Given Warm Greeting
Premier Lloyd George received an enthusiastic welcome when he reached the Reform club for luncheon before delivering his eagerly awaited political speech. The huge crowd outside the building extended practically the whole length of the street on which the club is situated and the premier's appearance was the signal for a great burst of cheering.

In beginning his speech at the luncheon and thus raising the curtain on a new act in the political drama which may mark a climax in the career of the striking central figure, Mr. Lloyd George referred to the near eastern crisis, declaring the people of this country must not believe that their government had endeavored to rush Great Britain into war.

Defends Government
"We have not been war mongers but peace-makers," he said.

The premier arose amid a tense silence of expectancy on the part of his hearers who were looking to him to begin the fight for his political life.

Continuing his defense of the government policy regarding the near east Mr. Lloyd George said the negotiations had been conducted in a manner unprecedented in this country. The government, he declared, had been assailed with misrepresentations such as no government had ever been subjected.

"The war of 1914 practically began to the Balkans. We had to act promptly, resolutely and firmly. Since 1914, the Turks, according to official testimony, have slaughtered in cold blood 1,500,000 Armenians and 500,000 Greeks without provocation at all."

Can't Bluff the Turk
"It is no use trying to bluff a first rate fighting animal," said Mr. Lloyd George, referring to the near east. "It is always a mistake to threaten unless you mean it. The Turks knew we meant it and that's why we have peace."

"I am told we have departed from the methods of the old diplomacy. They were sad. The old diplomacy ended in the most disastrous war this world has ever seen. The amateur diplomacy of 1922 has at least brought peace."

At one point Mr. Lloyd George declared dramatically with his head thrown back: "As long as I have a sword in my hand and God gives me strength to use it, I will do so."

Would Welcome Change
After expressing his love of freedom, saying that no one would welcome a change more than he, the premier added: "Three years ago I was anxious to go out and begged Mr. Balfour to take the office. He declined. I never sought the position. I never wished to retain it. But I will serve my country in any capacity."

"I shall watch many things," he added. "I shall watch to see how we are to forgive Germany her reparations and yet make France love us more than ever. I shall watch how we are to pay the United States all we owe her and forgive every other country all they owe us."

"No one knows better than Lord Grey," the premier said, "that in international affairs there are factors over which you have no control. It is best therefore to be charitable to others. It is no use throwing stones at people who are doing their best to work through difficulties."

Mr. Lloyd George declared the situation was too grave for any man to indulge in party or personal maneuvering. He meant to abide by his office, he said.

The premier had professed this by declaring: "The future is a perplexing one. I shall claim no personal or party gain."

NO PANIC ON BURNING VESSEL PASSENGERS STICK TILL HOPE OF SAVING SHIP IS ABANDONED

WASHINGTON.—The army transport Thomas was ordered Saturday by Secretary Weeks to proceed to Los Angeles instead of San Francisco to land the passengers rescued from the burned liner City of Honolulu. The transport later will go to San Francisco.

Ship Nearing Land
SAN FRANCISCO.—By The Associated Press.—Refugees of the sea, the 261 persons who were the passengers and crew of the liner City of Honolulu when flames drove them into the ship's boats 637 miles southeast of San Francisco Thursday morning, were approaching the mainland today aboard the United States army transport Thomas.

The Thomas is expected to make port some time Sunday. The City of Honolulu was burned to the water's level. Her charred and twisted bulk will be towed in later.

The task of transferring the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu from the rescue ship West Falarion to the Thomas, was completed at 7:45 a. m. according to radioes received at army transport headquarters from the Thomas Friday.

"All passengers and crew aboard at 7:45 and we are under way for San Francisco," Captain Hall of the Thomas said in his message.

On Job 24 Hours
After having worked continuously for twenty-four hours, or from the time that the Honolulu's S. O. S. was received, until since then, the doomed vessel's passengers and crew were safe, E. P. Orth, wireless operator on the West Falarion, "turned in" Friday for a few hours' rest, cutting off the vessel from communication, as she has no relief operator.

There were no injuries suffered by any of the fire victims. Everyone was in good spirits.

Water was pumped into the burning compartment of the Honolulu as long as possible, but the fire gained rapid headway into the superstructure. The water in the compartment caused a dangerous list to port and the boats were lowered with great difficulty. Later the Honolulu slowly righted, making the work of abandonment easier. The captain and crew made continued efforts to quench the fire after getting the passengers clear but were soon forced to abandon the ship, which they did about 9:10 a. m. About that time the Thomas received a wireless saying: "We are abandoning ship. Good bye."

Afloat for Seven Hours
The passengers were in the boats about seven hours. The Thomas, steaming south, saw the first glow of the burning ship at 12:30 a. m., reaching the scene of the disaster at 1 a. m.

The feat of transferring the passengers from the West Falarion to the Thomas took some time as each one had to go down a rope ladder with a rope around his waist.

The Honolulu's lifeboats were stove in and sunk after all of their gear had been taken aboard.

From the Thomas could be seen the caving in of the Honolulu's superstructure.

One smokestack and one aftermast had disappeared when the transport got under way and the fire was still burning fiercely. The lapsing of the waters against the hot sides of the doomed ship sent up great clouds of steam.

No Panic on Liner
The passengers were cool and collected and showed a disposition to remain with the big liner until assured that the fire could not be put out. The women were especially calm. Passengers praised the captain and crew for their coolness and efficiency, particularly for the manner in which they lowered the boats under difficulties.

Passengers said that the crew showed clever manipulation in handling the boats and loading them. The problems presented by the fire and the listing of the ship, were very trying, they said.

SHOP AND TRACK WORKERS GIVEN TWO CENT RAISE

Announcement of Wage Increase Affecting Half Million Men Made by Railway Labor Board

SIXTEEN RAILROADS COMPLETE
NEW AGREEMENTS WITH SHOPMEN

Men Waive Right to Strike and Roads Promise Not to Resort to Court Action

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—The railroad labor board Saturday granted two cents an hour increase to 451,911 members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railroad Shop Workers. The increase affects four of the nine classes of maintenance employees as classified in its previous decision No. 1,038, effective last July.

The increase will amount to an addition of $22,125,000 in the wage bill of the nation's railroads. The average minimum wage under the new decision will range from 23 to 37 cents an hour.

The decision came after ten days of deadlock among the board members.

Sign New Agreements
Sixteen railroads have completed agreements with new organizations of their shopmen by which in effect the men waive the right to strike and the companies pledged themselves not to litigate, both parties agreeing to abide by the decisions of the railroad labor board, it became known today. Notice of completion of the agreements has been filed with the labor board.

The mileage represented by the sixteen roads aggregates 55,916.

Others Negotiating
In addition to these roads numerous others are negotiating agreements with associations of their own employees. The sixteen roads which have signed agreements with new organizations of the employees are: Southern Pacific (Pacific system); Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Southern Pacific; Texas & Louisiana; Lines; Chattanooga & St. Louis; Central of Georgia; New York, New Haven & Hartford; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Colorado & Southern; Great Northern; Lehigh Valley; International & Great Northern; Union Pacific system; Illinois Central; Florida East Coast; Trinity & Brazos Valley; San Antonio Uvalde & Gulf.

COUNCIL UNDECIDED
ON TYPE OF SEAL
COAT TO BE USED

Members to View Paving Already Installed and Decision to be Made Monday

COUNCIL INDIGNANT OVER
CHANGE IN SPECIFICATIONS

To Get Explanation of Inspecting Engineer Monday

THE question of which is the preferable seal coat, cement or asphalt and gravel, and who was responsible for changing the original specifications as adopted by the common council which resulted in the installation of two blocks of pavement on Ninth street contrary to orders, was a mooted problem discussed at the regular meeting of the city council Friday night.

Unable to arrive at any decision Friday night, the council voted to recess until two o'clock Monday afternoon, when its members will have viewed the paving already completed and be prepared to vote on which type of seal coating will be installed on the new paving jobs in the city.

Council Indignant
Members of the council Friday night became indignant when it was learned that the original specifications had been changed without authority of the city body. Former Acting Engineer Congdon, called on to explain what he knew in connection with the matter, said that the specifications were altered by Isaac Van Trump, Chicago, whom the council has employed as inspecting engineer of the street paving work.

Congdon declared before the council that following the employment of Van Trump, a copy of the original specifications was sent to him at Chicago, and was returned to the engineer's office here with alterations made in accordance with his judgment. Standing out conspicuously was the change in the seal coat from asphalt and gravel to cement.

Congdon stated that he took up the matter with W. J. Fries, member of the board of public works, who believed that the cement coat would be to the city's advantage, but at the same time declaring that an alteration of the specifications could not be made without authority of the council.

Congdon stated further that he was not aware at that time that specifications could not be altered without authority of the council. The matter did not come before the board, he said.

Van Trump to Explain
It was voted to have an explanation from Van Trump at the meeting Monday afternoon.

Aware that installing the cement seal coat is a much cheaper process than that of the asphalt and gravel, the council is of the opinion that the contractors would be required to make a reduction in contracted price for paving should the specifications be ordered changed to the cement seal coat.

Contrary to this opinion of the council, one of the officials of the White Construction company, located by telephone during the meeting, held that the cost of installation would be approximately identical. The council scoffed at this statement and a resolution was offered by Alderman Mahoney confining the construction company to the original specifications until orders to the contrary were received. Final settlement of the question of seal coating was to be made at the adjourned session Monday afternoon.

Recommend Cement
E. C. Blake, new city engineer, offered an official recommendation that the council change the specifications to provide for a cement seal coat. He declared that in cities where he has had experience in street paving, the cement seal coat is being used altogether.

Alderman Roellig was one of the leading proponents for the asphalt and gravel seal coat. He was of the opinion that the asphalt would more efficiently fill up the cracks and crevices in the pavement and thus furnish a better coating. He questioned the ability as did Alderman Kilian of the cement to stand up without cracking under heavier traffic which is bound to travel over the streets.

One of the main objections offered by the city engineer to the asphalt and gravel seal coat was that in the heat of the summer, the asphalt would be liable to be picked up by traffic, resulting in holes in the pavement. He contended that the oil in

STATE FACES ACUTE HARD COAL CRISIS

Fear Breaking Down of Federal Distribution Program Will Bring Hardship to Wisconsin

STATE OFFICIALS APPEAL TO FEDERAL FUEL COMMITTEE

Charge "Rank Profiteering" by Coal Firms in Chicago; Ask Investigation

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Another coal crisis faces Wisconsin, this one caused by the breaking down of the federal plan for anthracite distribution. Governor J. J. Blaine, the state coal committee and Senator I. L. Lenroot wired Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce and C. E. Spens, federal fuel distributor today.

A series of telegrams were directed at federal officials telling of the failure of coal companies to make good on shipments of 300,000 tons of hard coal promised Wisconsin under the federal fuel distribution program. Charges of "rank profiteering" by anthracite dealers in Chicago, that warrant thorough federal investigation were contained in some messages.

"Reports for the past week indicate breaking down of the anthracite program," Governor Blaine telegraphed Herbert Hoover. "Only 160,000 tons have been shipped as against 500,000 tons promised. Unless shipments are hurried along Wisconsin will face a serious situation."

Charge Profiteering
"The anthracite program seems shot," P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the state coal committee, told Secretary Hoover. "And equitable distribution is necessary to avert suffering. How is it?" he asked, "that anthracite is being offered at outrageous prices? O. B. Spens, Chicago." In a message to Robert M. Medill, Illinois fuel distributor, Mr. Pressentin says that anthracite is being offered Wisconsin dealers from Chicago at $17 a ton.

Investigation Asked
"This looks like rank profiteering and I believe it warrants investigation," the message said. "How about anthracite for Green Bay, Sheboygan, Racine and Kenosha?" a telegram from the state committee to fuel distributor Spens queried. "Milwaukee has had several cargoes. There should be more equitable distribution."

"This looks like somebody is playing a deep game to force the price," a second message to Mr. Spens said. "Anthracite is being offered at Chicago at $17. This is outrageous and the government should take steps to stop gouging."

Would Speed Distribution
Senator Lenroot sent a telegram similar to those sent by state officials, the coal committee said. It is concentrating efforts to get anthracite to the ports so that distribution may be completed before severe weather sets in.

BADGER G. O. P. TO DEVOTE STRENGTH TO ELECTING SCHNEIDER

All the Force of Party Organization to be Thrown into Ninth District Fight

MADISON, Wis.—All the force of the Wisconsin republican party organization is to be thrown into the Ninth congressional district to bring about the election of George J. Schneider, republican nominee for congress, over Judge Henry Graess, independent republican candidate, and C. J. Hanzel, independent democrat, the state central committee here announces.

This contest, the most hotly contested of any political battle in Wisconsin at the general election, will draw fire from Senator Robert M. La Follette, Gov. J. J. Blaine, and other state officers who will urge the election of Mr. Schneider.

Anti-La Follette republicans are mustering their full strength to meet the onslaught and to further the independent candidacy of Judge Graess who was defeated in the primary by Schneider on the small margin of 145 votes. Judge Graess counts on garnering most of the support received during the primary by Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state and third candidate in the preliminary race.

Mayor Hanzel of Antigo, on the ticket as an independent democrat, is counting on the republican split to give him an opportunity to poll a large enough vote to assure his election. Voters will have to go outside the party columns to cast their ballot for him because of the operation of the primary law which forced most of the democratic party candidates out from under a party heading.

Mr. Schneider, the republican nominee, is strongly endorsed by the La Follette faction and by Mr. Hall, his former opponent. He is a member of organized labor and is actively supported by unions of his district. In the September primary Schneider's largest majority came from his home county of Outagamie, while Graess lost Green Bay, altogether with Brown county, his home. Supporters of the jurist claim that with Mr. Hall out of the race they can wipe out the slight lead of the nominee and win easily.

The ninth district in the past elections has had a trend toward the La Follette progressive candidates. A special attempt is to be made by the republican forces, in control of the La Follette faction, to center their efforts behind Schneider in this election.

SUSPENDED PASTOR CAN GET BACK BY MAKING APOLOGY

TULSA, Okla.—Rev. Thomas J. Irwin, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Lawton, Okla., whose suspension from the ministry was affirmed early Friday by the Oklahoma synod of the Presbyterian church, has an opportunity to obtain reinstatement.

The commission, which upheld the decision of the El Reno Presbytery suspending the minister, stated in its order that if Irwin will go before the Presbytery and apologize for "Low Twelve," a pamphlet alleged to have been published by him, it would pave the way for him to re-enter the ministry. The pamphlet was said to have ridiculed one of the members of his church.

An appeal will be taken to the general assembly of the church, which meets in Indianapolis next May, Irwin said. Meanwhile he will lay aside the ministerial frock and assume the role of motion picture actor, he declared, planning to enter the "movies" soon.

"STUMP SHOOTING" BECOMING POPULAR IN POLK COUNTY

Over Hundred Thousand Pounds of Explosives Being Used in Clearing up Stumpage

BALSAM LAKE, Wis.—Up here in Polk county the farmers are "puncturing" the air with stumps. Over 100,000 pounds of agricultural explosives are being used in the county to dislocate the remnants of bygone timberlands. "Stump shooting" has become popular throughout the area which is getting more land ready for the plow.

John Klinka, county Agent, reports that he has difficulty getting enough war salvage explosives to meet the demand. Polk county's last car of picric acid was distributed by Klinka in about 24 hours. The fifth car is expected soon. Scenes in this county are being duplicated throughout the section.

"REMEMBRANCE"—RIVOLI

We have had heart appeal in mother pictures, such as "The Old Nest," and now comes an equally sympathetic story of the father of a family in "Remembrance," which is being presented for the last time today at the Rivoli theater.

The reception accorded "Remembrance" proves beyond a doubt that Rupert Hughes, the author and director of the picture, has struck upon a popular theme. "Poor Old Dad" is the hero of this story and all the sympathy goes to him as he toils to meet the demands of a social climber and so are the sons and daughters but Dad retains his simple tastes. The struggle to make his income meet the ever increasing demands of the family is too much for him and he suffers an illness that almost causes his death.

But Dad, just when his illness reaches a crisis, decides that he can't afford to die, so he starts to get well. And by this time the family has learned its lesson.

RIVIERA TODAY

Which is the most dangerous vampire—the blonde or the brunette? There is something psychological in the lure certain women have for men. With the advent of the vampire on the screen again this season, the discussion is being taken up by learned college professors and scientists. Interest was revived when William Fox produced "A Fool There Was," which is the attraction at Riviera Theater tonight. Miss Estelle Taylor, a perfect type of brunette vampire, plays the role of the woman. She was picked out of more than fifty actresses, and after a professor of the University of California had stated that she possessed all the physical attractions and chemical makeup attaching to Cleopatra, Helen of Troy, Du Barry, and other famous beauties.

"GLORIOUS FOOL"—MAJESTIC

"The Glorious Fool" now playing at the Majestic Theater, lives up to all the good things we have heard about it. Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author of the story, has an uncanny sense of comedy values on the screen without ever becoming commonplace. For her latest picture she has chosen the scene of her first professional work, a large city hospital, for the background.

Here we find a pretty little probationer—Mrs. Rinehart may have had herself in mind—whose sympathy for her patient is so deep that when in a delirium, he begs her to marry him so that his relatives who are waiting for him to die in order to inherit his wealth will be disappointed, she painfully consents. But the patient takes a quick turn for the better and the poor nurse finds herself in a quandary.

However, the patient is delighted. Love never stops at means. And in this case, the man knows his own mind and sets out to help his nurse make up hers.

STRAND TONIGHT

Getting paid to sit in a comfortable upholstered chair while watching Mae Murray dance wouldn't be the average conception of an unpleasant job. Yet three hundred persons, all "extras" in "Broadway Rose," in which Robert Z. Leonard presents Mae Murray at the Strand Theater, drew their cheeks every week for doing just that. They were part of the audience in the theater which was constructed in Tiffany Studios, New-

"RIGHT WAY"—LA CROSSE
Now and then a picture comes to town that is able to command more than passing attention, but in "The Right Way" the patrons of the La Crosse Theater are able to enjoy a film sensation. It shows some remarkable photographed scenes of actual life behind prison walls.

Thomas Mott Osborne, the famous ex-warden of two of the country's largest prisons, personally supervised the picture, which required a year in the making. One sees slum life in all its entirety. High society and its cycles of interest are given full play. The fireside trials and tribulations of domesticity are worked in, as well as the gay life along the byways and highways of the big cities. And the love story runs through with adventure and thrills that make "The Right Way" an epic.

"HUMAN HEARTS"—SUNDAY AT RIVOLI

Psychologists are popping up all over the country with long worded documents aimed to prove that the mind of the average person is a complicated arrangement of complexes, sub-conscious desires, and whatnots. "Human Hearts," coming to the R-voli Theater on Sunday is a welcome answer to all this learned babble. It pictures the human brain of the average person as essentially simple; free, in the superstructure of words; sham that some acquire.

As one of the New York reviewers wrote after seeing the premiere: "Human Hearts" is essentially a story of the average family as found throughout the length and breadth of the country. It is a recital of the trials and tribulations that might come to any family, even yours and mine, and that is why it is a great drama. It is human and real to the smallest detail.

RIVIERA SUNDAY

Crime waves have necessitated the invention of many a modern anti-burglar device. Perhaps none is more effective than that which charges a safe with thousands of volts of electricity.

COMPLAINS TO POLICE THAT HOLD-UP GANG ROBBED HIM OF GLAND

CHICAGO, Ill.—The first case of gland larceny in criminal annals came to light Friday when Dr. A. S. Sampolinski, 1804 South Ashland avenue, reported the case of Joseph Wozniak to the Marquet police.

New Evil of Drink

Wozniak, now in St. Mary's hospital, says he was under the influence of liquor on the morning of October 11 when four men seized him as he was walking under a viaduct at Seventeenth and South Robey streets. A bag was thrown over his head and he was hurried into an automobile, he says.

He remembers no more, he says, until he regained consciousness that night. He was lying in a vacant lot with the bag still over his head.

He staggered home, he asserts, and discovered that one of his glands had been removed. The next day he called in Dr. Sampolinski, who had him removed to the hospital.

Work of Expert, View

According to the doctor, the operation was performed by a skilled surgeon, probably in some hospital, as the wound had been carefully dressed and sewn up.

The police are searching for the missing gland. It is their theory that Wozniak was kidnapped at the behest of some wealthy patient in need of a gland transplantation.

WINONA RESIDENTS
FACE U. S. COURT
ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Raids Made on Farmer and Grocer Last Spring and Summer

Two Winona county farmers and a Winona resident were arraigned Friday before U. S. Commissioner J. Russell Smith in Winona on charges of violating the federal prohibition law. The charges grow out of raids made by federal agents in this vicinity last spring and summer.

The men are Frank Maltewick, grocer, 503 West Fourth street, Michael Schloegel farmer and constable in the town of Wilson, and Jake Phillips, farmer near Wilson.

All three waived examination and were bound over to await the action of the grand jury at the next term of federal court, which meets here next month. They were released on $500 bail each.

Sale of Liquor Charged

Schloegel was charged with selling moonshine whiskey. He was arrested Aug. 10 by federal agents co-operating with Sheriff C. E. Christensen of Fillmore county, who alleged that he had been supplying liquor for trade in that county.

Phillips was arrested in a raid on his farm May 10, the same day the raid was made on the Maltewick grocery and residence. He was charged with manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

Maltewick was charged with having moonshine whiskey in his possession on May 10. He denies the charge.

On Aug. 14, Maltewick's wife Elizabeth filed civil suit for $20,000 damages against S. B. Kvale, federal prohibition director in Minnesota, for injuries alleged to have been sustained when federal agents raided the home. Mrs. Maltewick charged that federal officers piled rugs and carpets at the top of the stairs in such a manner that when she became frightened by their conduct and attempted to cross the room, she tripped and fell over the pile, falling downstairs and receiving severe and permanent injury.

Case Taken to U. S. Court

The suit was filed in district court by Mrs. Maltewick's attorneys, J. J. Fitzpatrick of Winona and Corrie and Hale of La Crosse. Later the case was removed by the government to the federal court. Government attorneys, acting in behalf of Prohibition Director Kvale, filed a demurrer to the complaint, claiming that the facts set forth were not sufficient to constitute a cause for action.

Attorneys for Mrs. Maltewick have asked Judge Booth to dismiss the demurrer, and argument on this motion is scheduled for Oct. 21.

Police Ordinance Referred

An ordinance providing for additional to the police force of two additional patrolmen and two automobile drivers, whose duty it would be to maintain in repair all of the city's cars, had its third reading before the council but was re-referred back to committees. Alderman Mahoney offered an amendment to strike out all reference to the employment of two drivers and substitute two women members to the force instead of the two additional patrolmen. Both were referred back to committees for further consideration. The necessity of an ambulance for the police department came out in the discussion and was also to be considered along with the ordinance.

Alderman Mahoney introduced a resolution revoking the license of William Schulenberg, Third and Vine streets, in view of his recent conviction in the courts for selling spirited liquors. The resolution was referred to committees. Alderman Newburg declared the resolution needless in view of the fact that under the Severson act, a license is automatically revoked upon conviction of violation of the dry act in the courts.

A resolution was passed providing that the park commission prepare an itemized list of receipts and disbursements on account of baseball at Copeland park, together with a statement of the reason for employing additional help because of baseball.

A resolution was introduced and referred which called for the labeling of all city cars in accordance to the department to which the machines belong. The resolution also carried a provision that city cars were to be used only for city business.

MADISON, Wis.—A person in Wisconsin who violates a law covered by his hunting license which is revoked as a result may not lawfully be issued a trapping license or other game license within a period of one year after the revocation of his first permit. Attorney General William J. Morgan ruled Saturday.

"It is my opinion," he wrote W. E. Barber, chairman of the conservation commission, "that a person holding a license under provisions of the game laws which has been revoked may not lawfully be issued any of the licenses provided for in the said chapter until one year has elapsed after the date of the revocation."

His initial speech came close on the heels of that of George J. Schneider of Appleton, La Follette candidate, who opened up his campaign at Denmark Wednesday evening. The Graass party is scheduled to make a quick campaign over Brown county Saturday, starting on a tour Monday north into Marinette, Florence, Forest and Langlade counties.

Blight on Boston Fern

As a house plant the rubber plant was laughed out of existence some years ago, but its place has been taken in popular esteem by the Boston fern. It has been noticed lately that these plants have been effected by a blight which has seriously interfered with their beauty. The unrolling ends of the fronds turn back and soon die, which is said to be due to a parasite fungus. This may be remedied by a little attention. The blackened ends are cut off as they appear, care to water the soil and not the growth and cover the earth with a layer of sand.

Beautifying the Macintosh

BLAINE RECEIVED
INDIRECT SUPPORT OF KLAN SAY DEMS

Question Governor as to Endorsement by League Reported Fathered by Klan

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The democratic state central committee Saturday sent a telegram to Governor John J. Blaine asking him whether or not he received the support of the American voters' league in the primary election, said by the democratic committee to be publicly charged with being fathered by the Ku Klux Klan. W. D. Carroll secretary of the democratic committee said that in view of the fact that press dispatches Friday had carried a statement to the effect the governor stated he had never received the endorsement of the Klan in his nomination for governor and asserted that the expressions of the democratic state central committee are without foundation, it was only fair that the governor reply to the following message:

"The press dispatches carry in Friday's Milwaukee papers a statement from you to the effect that you never received the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan in your nomination for governor in so far as you are aware and asserted that the expressions of the democratic state central committee are without foundation."

"It is not my purpose to in any way reflect upon you or misrepresent your position or mis-state the facts. In view of your public denial it seems only proper and fair to ask that you reply to the following questions:

"Did you or did you not receive the public endorsement of the American Voters' league in your candidacy for Governor in the recent primary and if so what is the American Voters' league with fifteen thousand active political workers and what legislation do they advocate?"

"Did you or did you not repudiate such endorsements? If you did not repudiate the endorsements will you please state why in view of the fact that the American Voters' league was publicly charged with being fathered by the Ku Klux Klan and as such its endorsement was repudiated by your opponent, William J. Morgan?"

Knights of Columbus from three states are gathering in La Crosse for a Columbus Day ceremonial to be held Sunday afternoon in Pioneer Hall in which big class of candidates will be initiated into the highest degree of the order, and at which most of the Wisconsin and provincial officers of the "Caseys" will be present. The ceremonial is to be followed by a big banquet.

Several automobiles full of visiting Knights reached the city Saturday afternoon, and hundreds more are expected on Sunday.

CONFISCATED GUNS

MADISON.—Guns of all kinds and descriptions confiscated by the state conservation commission from hunters violating the game law will no longer be brought to Madison for sale. Hereafter, according to Secretary R. D. Scheibel of the commission, the guns will be sold in the town where the offender is found guilty.

The reason for the new order is that a gun can usually be sold for a higher price in the localities where its qualities are known and in addition the Conservation Commission will not have to pay express on the guns to Madison.

Asphalt to Kill Mosquitoes

In an effort to overcome the mosquito at Trinidad, in the West Indies, the open drains are being sprayed with liquid asphalt. It was found that clearing the drains of grass was not only expensive but ineffective, for the heavy tropical rains often washed down the banks, leaving little pools of water, in which mosquitoes bred freely, scattered along the side. Asphalt is spread along the drains and burned, while a combination of oil is thrown on to provide the heat necessary to volatilize its lighter constituents.

TO STAGE ANNUAL BAG RUSH TODAY

Sophomores Bent on Maintaining Lead of Two Years' Victories; Game Follows

MADISON, Wis.—The annual clash between University of Wisconsin freshmen and their ancient enemies, the sophomores, will be staged on the traditional battle ground of the two classes Saturday.

Fifteen manzied bags, stuffed with straw, will be in the center of the fracas as the frosh and sops struggle for physical supremacy, on the university's lower campus. Sophomores for two years past have managed to win a majority of the bags.

The two warring factions will congregate shortly after noon, approximately 800 sophomores and over 1,000 frosh, each side set on a victory. At one o'clock the yearlings will run on the field to face their sophomore enemies at its opposite side.

After the starting gun is fired the battle over the bags will wage for 20 minutes. When the finish gun is fired the class having the greatest number of bags on its side of the field wins, and the victory parade leads for the square.

This time, though, there is expected to be a rush for Camp Randall where Wisconsin meets the South Dakota Agricultural college in the Badgers first real contest of the year. With but a few minutes time between the bag clash and the football game the class fighters will head for the gridiron when their battle is over.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

NORMAL DEFEATED BY COLUMBIA 11 HERE ON FRIDAY

Eddie Anderson's Aggregation
Sends Locals to Defeat,
21 to Nothing

LOCAL LINE UNABLE TO STOP VISITORS' BACKS

Columbia Scores Twice on Intercepted Passes

Presenting a forward line that was unable to cope with the driving attacks of the opposing backfield and a passing game that showed much room for improvement, the La Crosse normal eleven Friday afternoon went down in defeat at the hands of Columbia college, Dubuque, by a count of 21 to 0. The locals were hopelessly outclassed by the visitors.

Coach Eddie Anderson's aggregation displayed an aggressive attack throughout the contest that netted a touchdown in each quarter but the second. The first resulted from a blocked punt from the shadow of the La Crosse goal and the others from intercepted passes, that in the third session resulting after a neat 60-yard run.

In addition to Columbia's ability at gaining through the local line, several passes were completed that contributed to the La Crosse defeat. Along with the completed passes was a wonderful interference that permitted gains to go for longer distances.

Fighting in their own territory in the third quarter, the locals attempted a pass that landed safely in the hands of a yellow-jerseyed warrior who raced a distance of 60 yards for the team's second counter. They followed with another similar play in the fourth.

On one occasion did the La Crosse line present a stonewall when it held the Columbia on the local 5-yard line and four downs to make the goal. Here the locals blocked every attempt of the visitors who were finally forced to punt on being held within inches of the 5-yard line.

Czerboski at guard, and Taylor, injected at right end in the second quarter, displayed characteristic fight of Coach Keeler's eleven. It was Taylor's first game and he showed up to good advantage. In the backfield Murphy carried the brunt of the battle and was responsible for the knocking down of many passes.

Blake at left end and Golvin at right tackle, were individual stars with the Columbia eleven.

The lineup: For La Crosse—Miller, Brown, center; tackles, Bateman and Kilian; guards, T. Czerboski and Dundas; ends, Kevin and Lyons; halves, Murphy and Reynolds; fullback, Erttinger; quarterback, Gunderson.

For Columbia—Center, Kelly; tackles, Golvin and Oberbrockling; guards, Casher and Knokeles; ends, Fisher and Blake; halves, Goodwin and Willey; full, Aldera; quarter, McDough.

Substitutes for La Crosse: Hawkins for Gunderson, Jorgerson for Hawkins, Huhbles, fullback, Hurd, half, Taylor, c; Phonowic, e.

THE DANGERS OF THE SEA

The dangers of the sea were brought out in a paper recently read by the Royal Statistical society. The figures given were based on the recorded deaths by accidents in the five years ending 1913. The yearly death rate among seamen was 4.05 per thousand employed, compared with 1.56 for underground workers in coal mines, and 0.59 for railway servants. It is estimated that the number of deaths per million man-hours of employment was 0.97 for seamen, 0.68 among underground workers in coal mines and 0.20 among railway servants. The author also compared the accidents involving deaths of passengers on steam vessels with those on railways. Assuming that, in the foreign trade, sea passengers are at sea for twenty days on the average, and that railway passengers (excluding season ticket holders) are on the train for about an hour, then in the period about 1900, the railway passengers' deaths were 0.12 per million passenger-hours, while the sea passengers' were 1.5, or more than twelve times as great. In the period about 1910, the railway passengers' deaths were about 0.1 per million passenger-hours, and the sea passengers' were about 0.3, or three times as great, showing that there has been a general progress toward safety.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GIBBONS HEARS OF DEATH OF FATHER IN SEVENTH ROUND

Fights Gamely to End Only to Lose Battle on a Foul in Tenth Round

GIBBONS SHOWS COURAGE RARELY SEEN IN RING

Twist of Fate Loses Fight for Gibbons

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—They tell stories about actors sometimes going out on the stage after they have received news of the death of a husband or wife, reciting their regular lines and making indifferent folk feel happy and laugh. Probably those stories are true.

They must be true. Anyone of the crowd that filled Madison Square Garden Friday night and saw Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul lose on a foul to Billy Miske, his fellow townsman, in the tenth round of their bout that was to go fifteen rounds, probably will believe so today. They looked upon the sort of courage a fighting man is rarely called upon to show, but a few of them knew it then.

Receives Telegram

Only a few of that howling crowd saw a uniformed messenger boy creep up to Gibbons' corner during the seventh round and cautiously getting his signature of receipt first, slip a yellow envelope into the hand of Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager. Gibbons saw it, out of the corner of his eye, as he slashed and singed and he knew. When Tommy came to his corner at the end of the seventh round he sank calmly on his stool and asked Kane, "What does it say?"

"What does what say?" countered the manager.

"Oh, all right," answered Gibbons, "but I know." The detailed account of the next round shows that Gibbons "rained rights and lefts to the body and slugged several teeth out of Miske's mouth" and that "Gibbons rocked Miske with rights and lefts to the head," and that "they were exchanging blows when the bell rang."

Fights Gamely On

The remainder of the details don't matter much. Tommy kept on slugging away, fighting cleverly, craftily, feeling his opponent into leads that led only to punishment until a twist of fate in the tenth round caused Gibbons' right fist to fall below Miske's belt, and Miske to fall on the floor and the battle to end.

It was more than the mere disappointment of losing a fight that had been virtually sailed away for keeps that came to Tom Gibbons when he left the ring. Kane showed the crumpled telegram into the boxer's gloved fist.

"Read it, Tom," he said. "Let's hurry and dress. I'm awfully sorry."

"All right," said Gibbons, the two-fisted, battered fighter, tears streaming down his sweaty face. "I know what you mean." But those who crowded the arena and lined the aisles down which the loser strode did not know. They had seen fighters lost on fouls before but they had never seen one cry—even when he had lost his fighting reputation. They didn't know about the telegram—hadn't seen the messenger boy creep back into the crowd after delivering the message that told of the death of Tom's father in St. Paul, who had taught them much of the fighting that they knew and taught them from his Irish blood.

CHICAGO AND MINNESOTA PICKED TO WIN WESTERN CONFERENCE TILTS TODAY

CHICAGO, Ill.—Most of the dopesters of Big Ten football picked Chicago and Minnesota to win their respective games with Northwestern and Indiana Saturday.

These two contests, one at Stagg field, the other at Indianapolis, were the only games directly affecting the championship race of the Western conference, the other six teams of the Big Ten playing outsiders.

Four of the six were regarded by prophets as almost certain winners over their non-conference opponents. They were Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio State.

GREAT INTEREST IN EAST-WEST GRIDIRON TILT AT YALE BOWL

Will also Decide Unofficial Championship of the
Jones Family

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—By The Associated Press.—The unofficial championship of the Jones family and of those sections of organized football which attract greatest popular interest was at stake in Saturday's inter-sectional game in the Yale bowl between Yale and the University of Iowa.

Last year's champion eleven of the Western conference, coached by Howard H. Jones, came some 1,500 miles to play a member of the "Big Three" of the east, which defeated one and lost to the other member of the Princeton-Harvard-Yale triangle last season and which is coached by Tad Jones, Howard's brother.

Interest in the game was increased by the fact that Howard and Tad played on the same eleven at Yale, one a substitute end and the other an all-American quarterback, and by the fact that each has been the only Yale coach in recent years whose pupils have attained the summit of Yale football ambitions and defeated Harvard in the season's climax.

Rivalry of brothers is nothing new in Yale football, but it is a painful recollection. Two years ago a Yale eleven captained by Tim Callahan, was defeated by Brother Mike's Princeton team, 20 to 0.

Out in Excelsio, Ohio, one football follower, interested in the game as much as anybody, said she would like a scoreless tie. She was Mrs. T. Jones, mother of the coaches.

An under-graduate cheer leader from Iowa was on hand. Seats were reserved among others for Mrs. D. N. Richardson of Davenport, Iowa, 88 years old, the grandmother of the Jones boys and widow of a regent of the University of Iowa, who arranged to make the trip to New Haven in a special car.

Many an argument in comparison of mid-western and eastern football probably will arise from the result of Saturday's game, for such intersectional clashes in the future seem doomed. Both the Western conference and the "Big Three" have frowned upon distant trips for intersectional games in the future.

The probable lineup:

Iowa.	Position.	Yale.
Kadwsky	le	Eddy
Thompson	lt	Greene or Qualle
Minick	lg	Cruikshank
	(Acting captain.)

Heldt	rg	Landis
Meade or Krix	rt	Cross
Encklinger	rt	Diller
Hancock	re	Hulman
